Expression of Interest Professional Development Program Understanding and Engaging Men and Adolescents

The Centre for Rural & Regional Health Education seeks your feedback and interest in our Professional Development Program for GPs and Divisions interested in Men and Adolescents Health.

Our work is in providing GPs with a better way of addressing and integrating new Clients into the existing Health System, by providing better opportunities for men and adolescents in early detection of disease or issues that may affect their health and wellbeing.

Health promotion and sustainable health outcomes relies on the client becoming more aware of their health. Secondary, it requires that the Health Practitioner provides a means by which the client can recognise possible health issues and address these issues.

Recognition of risk empowers individuals to reduce risk

Clients that don't present with recognisable symptoms or who simply don't recognise their health risk, eg levels of cholesterol, blood sugar, risk of stroke or depression are the ones we need to integrate into the Health System – thus promoting healthier outcomes for all.

It would be appreciated if you could indicate your interest in the provision of this Professional Development Program for your GPs by ticking the Yes or No boxes on the form on the next page.

It is an important Refresher course and an important development in learning new techniques of integration for new clients and integrating with and the value of collaborating with other Health Practitioners that will provide a pathway for new clients to reduce or minimise their future health risks.

Also attached is some feedback from previous Professional Development Sessions for your interest.

Regards,

BERNARD DENNER
